Everyone say "hi" to the new kid

Sure, it's a little scary meeting someone new... but, it can be exciting, too! At ActiveCare Medical, we feel a little like the new kid in class, since you've never heard of us. But, our executives have a combined 50 years experience in the medical mobility industry, and we're manufacturing products and providing services that are just as good as—or better than—the high cost guys. We think we're going to be your new best friend... with the right products at very competitive prices.

So, we may be the new kid, but we know you well and what you need to be competitive. Soon, we'll be the big man on campus! Give us a call or go to our web site to get acquainted.
